Opportunity

In a career with Aflac, you can apply the knowledge you acquired in college to run your own successful business.

Aflac sells a product people need and—once they understand it—a product they want to buy. That's a pretty sound basis for success. And, with a career that pays you based on your performance, the sky is the limit. As you master the Aflac career and gain experience, vast opportunities open up, ranging from district management all the way to territory management.

A crowd of people is shown from the chest up, with their hands raised in the air. The background is a clear, bright blue sky. The people are out of focus, with the focus on the hands in the foreground. The overall mood is positive and energetic.

Support

Simply put—your success is our success.

That's why we're committed to providing you with what you need—from basic to advanced training and support along the way. With a number of online tools, as well as product and Aflac-specific education, our network of district and regional sales coordinators help ensure you have the support you need to be successful.

“I was a couple of years out of college and didn’t have any sales experience before joining Aflac. I’ve seen people in my region that didn’t have any either, and they’re doing great things. Your coordinators are there for constant support. You’re not alone. It’s really a team environment.”

“Aflac is more than a company: Aflac turned out to be a tremendous friend and helper to me and my family in our time of need.”

Magda D.

Aflac Policyholder since 2012

Selling Aflac is much more than a job. It's a career you can feel proud of.

The people close to you know they can count on you to be there when you're needed. Aflac was built on a similar promise, to provide peace of mind when it's needed most. As an Aflac intern or associate, you can provide that comfort and peace of mind to policyholders when they need it most. Helping others in their time of need is something you can feel good about. From helping fill out claim forms to delivering a benefit check, your support can help get people through some of their toughest times. With Aflac, you can be successful and be fulfilled.
